

Junior Golf Camps

The Trails Junior Golf Camps promote a fun learning environment where young golfers will be able to develop their own relationship with this great game. We will cover things such as basic principles of the golf swing, short game skills, how to play the game, as well as rules and etiquette. Sessions will include practice time on the driving range and as much on course time as possible. Lunch will be provided each day as well. We will have designated on course activities that promote decision making, accountability, and FUN! There are specific drills we use to enhance the correct motions in the golf swing, as well as activities that engage the golfer in physical exercise. Additionally, there are team contests, games and challenge skills on the golf course. We not only want to teach our juniors how to swing the club, but play golf as well. If your junior has expressed any interest in the game, or has played for several years, we would love the opportunity to teach & expand their knowledge in the game.

The Trails Junior Golf offers the choice of two, 3-day camps. These camps will be led by Alan Hager, PGA Head Golf Professional, and Bryce Wheeler, Assistant Golf Professional. The junior golf play days will be on the scheduled Wednesday & Thursday mornings beginning at 8:00 a.m. On the play days, the juniors will tee off in a block of tee times and play a number of holes for their respective age group. The golf professionals will be on the course with the juniors for the entire playday. The fee for this year's program is $300 and includes the camp, lunch, play days, Jr. Club Championship entry fee & player gift.
